What is Going On Tonight

Benefactors and Protective Orders of Elks, Willimantic Lodge, No. 1211, meets at 8:07 Main street.

Eastern Star Lodge, No. 41, A. F. & A. M., stated communication at Masonic hall.

What Rotary has done for the boys of Johnson City, Tenn., was the subject chosen by E. W. "Gus" Horner, president of the Johnson City, Tenn., Rotary club for a talk at the meetings of the Willimantic Rotary club held Tuesday noon. Rotary in Johnson City, said Mr. Horner, took up boys' work seriously and especially as it affected the boys not reached through the Boy Scout organizations. Situated near the Appalachian forest reserve, Johnson City offered possibilities of making money for these boys, so the club made them together with the boys went into the forest and in two days built two log cabins and from that date on, the boys had a place to go to when they were in the woods. Every summer they camped there and enjoyed the outdoors. The club arranged to get a scout leader and formed a troop of boys under his direction. The benefits derived by the boys from this organization more than repaid the club for its share of the work. Entertainment and means to raise funds for the boys have also been made to make this work of the Rotary club a success.

Speaking of business conditions in the south, Mr. Horner said that during the last few years several business houses that had been successful for years found themselves in urgent need of money or they would go bankrupt. Debtors were sent out to go to work and lawyers refused to collect the bills because they knew that the men owing them were in financial straits and would pay them if able. Finally the business men got together and when a company showed signs of failing the creditors would talk it over and agree that the business house was not in a position to pay off its debts and continue in business. Thus they would grant the business an extension of time in which to meet payments. The result of this good spirit and generosity in the south has been that during the past few years the worst seen in the north in many years, there have been comparatively few failures and far fewer than expected.

This spirit is new in the business world and marks a new era in business. Rotary, which has done much to foster this type of good fellowship, is a fine organization and one which no man need be ashamed to belong to.

Mr. Horner congratulated the local club for its entertainment for 1922 in charge of Harry W. Standish and thanked the program to introduce them to his club in Johnson City.

The meeting was opened at noon by President Valentine J. Murphy, followed by Stunt Leader George W. Hickey and off with several songs. Frank H. Foss and Raymond A. Parker sang "All My Myself," and regular business was transacted. The club was requested to aid in helping Mrs. G. R. Sreenbult, wife of a Brooklyn, N. Y., physician, who has been missing from her home for a month. A poster will be filed at the local police station for public notification.

Harry W. Standish outlined the program of entertainment for 1922 in charge of Harry W. Standish and thanked the program to introduce them to his club in Johnson City.

Announcement was made Tuesday of the sale of the Willimantic Drug store, 780 Main street by Gustave O. Carter to The Willimantic Drug company, which will take possession next week. The Carter drug store is one of the old standbys in the town having been established about forty years ago by James Welden and Henry H. Flint. Later it was known as the Leonard pharmacy conducted by John L. Leonard. Mr. Carter worked there for a year and in 1920 purchased the business conducting it until he sold. The Willimantic Drug company had its inception in 1920, nearly one hundred years ago at the present stand No. 780 Main street, in what is known as the Fuller building. The present owners are Mr. John W. Wilson, president, Frank M. Smith, treasurer and manager, Frederick J. Williams, secretary, William A. Cannon is also to be admitted as a partner of the firm. Mr. Carter has turned no plans for the future as he is to retire to his farm at Babcock Hill, Conn. for a much needed rest.

Leah Fox of Phelps Crossing, lost his Ford touring car Sunday night, and is evidently by some one familiar with the place, as marks on the driveway at the house show where the car had been pushed out before it was started. Mr. Fox said that while working on an incubator in the basement of his house he heard a car travel down the driveway and out onto the North Windham road. He thought it

ARE YOU AMONG?
THE UNEMPLOYED?

You may be, and not know it. Most folks are in the spring.

Let SANALT PUT YOU ON THE JOB

BLOOD, stomach, bowels and kidneys are usually on half time in the winter. Pork and cabbage, pie and pudding and other heavy, fatty foods, lack of exercise, too much sleep and too little fresh air make the organs rebel, and they loaf on the job.

When the warm days of spring come, your muscles go on strike and you're out of a job—and if you don't watch out in a little while you'll be too sick to work.

The winter waste, the decaying, poisonous matter that is left in your system must be removed. To do it you must take something to make your organs get busy. If you don't you'll have what the old-fashioned folks call "Spring Misery." Indigestion and its horrible pains. The weakness of constipation. Lazy liver and sluggish kidneys. Then the poison goes into the blood and comes out in boils and pimples. Headache, nervousness and "the blues" follow. Lastly, that utterly worthless, tired-out feeling that puts you on your back, sick in bed.

SANALT, The Sensible Tonic will awaken all your organs and put them on a full time job—and do it, oh, so pleasantly! SANALT is one of the famous, hundred-year-old "Winsol" line of household remedies. Buy a bottle from your druggist. If not satisfied with results, get all your money back. Get the name right.

Jewett City
A few days ago a woman and her daughter, who live down below Plainfield, were in Norwich. While there, visiting in different stores, and making various purchases, they heard a phonograph for the first time. The daughter, as well as the mother, was just carried away with the beautiful music that came out of the box, after the man had run the crank a spell. The woman inquired of the man, partly teased, was surprised by the daughter and they soon started for home. Later happenings prove that it was the farthest thing they thought of to let it go at that, and give it up. "Wait," said mother, "I'll talk with 'him' about it." "Yes," said the daughter, "I'll see to it."

For some reason, not as yet learned, the next visit to civilization was a trip to Jewett City, and this time there were two and the woman accompanied by a sad, unattractive looking man. But he was a game one. When the trio went to the place, "H" was elected right in, and caused to seat himself while he listened to a couple of merry ripostes, with Old Kentucky Home sung by a male quartet, and this in turn, the woman put her hand over on his knee. The daughter looked up into his eyes and said simply, "Pa!"

Two of the store men took the photograph out and put it in the back of the wagon. He came out with a lighter step, tied it securely in the back of the seat, paid $1.40 and left in triumph. He had a hard time to turn Slater's corner before (for home for many a moon. One man who was an anxious witness said, "Some things come high, but they are worth it."

Good Health for Good Results

Keep Efficient by Keeping Well

This Letter Will Tell You How

Cumberland, Md.—"My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was between thirteen and fourteen years old and was going to school, because I suffered with pains and could not rest. I did not have any more trouble after that until I was married, then I always was troubled in my back while carrying a child and could not do my work until I took the Vegetable Compound again. I am strong, do all my washing and ironing and work for seven children and feel fine. I always have an easy time at childbirth and what it did for me it will do for other women. I am willing to answer any woman if she wishes to write asking what it did for me."—Mrs. JOHN HEIER, 53 Dilleys St., Cumberland, Md.

This letter is but one of a great number received every year from women, young and old, and from almost every walk of life. These letters testify to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Heier has a large family, and works very hard for them. But any woman is willing to work hard and to work long hours if her health is good and she is able to get the results she is working for. As she says, what the Vegetable Compound did for her it will do for other women, and every one should appreciate her offer to answer letters asking about the Vegetable Compound.

The Vegetable Compound contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by any woman. Your livelihood may depend on your health. So try

The Boy Who Started to Town With a Hundred Dollars

The advice they gave him for getting on in the world was simple and familiar enough: "Keep what you have, and build on it. Be careful what you do and it will grow into more."

It's a safe rule—with money or health, but a good many overlook the rule with health, until they have lost what they had. Then it's hard to get a new supply.

Postum is a splendid help in saving health from the very common losses through the drug elements of tea and coffee—whose effects on the nervous system any doctor can tell you.

Thousands of people who think it wise to be as careful of their health as they are of their dollars are users of Postum. They find this famous cereal beverage a delightful drink with any meal, and it's free from any disturbing element.

You can begin with Postum today, with an order to your grocer. The road to health is a good road for anybody to follow. "Save what you have, and build on it," is sound policy for everybody.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of hot water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.
